

Biographical Note

João Margaça

Master in business management by the Instituto Superior de Ciências do Trabalho e da Empresa, degree in agro-industrial engineering by the Instituto Superior de Agronomia, post-graduate in food quality and safety management and in integrated quality, environment and safety systems.

He is currently senior consultant and quality and sustainability manager.

He has broad multidisciplinary experience as coordinator/director, consultant, auditor in the food industry and in various sectors of activity in the areas of sustainability, management systems (quality, environment, occupational safety and food safety), strategic management and performance analysis, management control and in process management.