

Biographical Note

Matthew Barsalou works in the automotive industry in Germany. He has a master's degree in business administration and engineering (industrial engineering) from Wilhelm Büchner Hochschule, and a master's degree in liberal studies from Fort Hays State University. He is an Academician in the International Academy for Quality, an ASQ fellow, and past chair of ASQ's Statistics Division. He is certified as a Lean Six Sigma Master Black Belt, Six Sigma Black Belt, manager of quality/organizational excellence, quality technician, quality engineer, quality manager, quality auditor, ISO/TS 16949 auditor, and quality management representative and is also an INTACS certified Automotive SPICE® Provisional Assessor.