

Biographical Note

---

Daniela Borba Oliveira is a recent graduate from the University of Aveiro in Portugal, holding a master's degree in Industrial Engineering and Management. Daniela's passion for quality management led her to excel in her master thesis, where she successfully applied the DMAIC methodology to reduce the number of defects in a wind blades manufacturing company. Her main areas of interest are quality management, process optimization and continuous improvement.