

Biographical Note

Tobias Rodrigues

Tobias Rodrigues is a seasoned professional with over 12 years of experience in building exceptional teams for companies worldwide. He embarked on this journey after obtaining a master's degree in Conflict Resolution in Barcelona, where he currently resides.

Throughout his career, Tobias has worked with renowned international companies such as Amazon, Desigual, eBay, HP, Paypal, and King.com, delivering outstanding results. He also collaborates regularly with IESE Business School, ranked among the top 10 Business Management schools globally.

Before his professional career, Tobias served as a priest for nine years in the Azores and Rome, where he pursued Bible Studies at the esteemed Pontifical Biblical Institute. Originally from Canada, Tobias spent his formative years there until the age of 14 before relocating with his family to the breathtaking Island of São Miguel, the homeland of his parents. He has four sisters and a brother.

As a proud father of a smart 9-year-old girl named Irene, Tobias embraces his life motto of "Live to Give." He is also known for his appreciation of red wine and his unconventional approach to life. To learn more about Tobias Rodrigues and his expertise in building Badass Teams, visit his website at tobiasrodrigues.com.