

Biographical Note

Sid Bhatnagar joined the American Society for Quality, Inc. (ASQ) in 2020 and serves as its Interim Chief Executive Officer, after holding multiple executive roles with ASQ during the last four years. He is a dynamic and accomplished executive spanning multiple industries, with 14+ years of focus in financial services.

Bhatnagar's career is characterized by his creative and entrepreneurial approach to complex, fast-changing environments. He has an extensive track record of leading enterprise-wide initiatives that streamline operations, mitigate risk, capture savings, increase capability, improve service quality, and accelerate growth. Bhatnagar's strategic prowess has allowed him built and coached cross-functional teams, established collaborative relationships with top-level stakeholders, including Board of Directors, strategic partners and other executives.

A testament to his management aptitude, Bhatnagar has a history of developing highperforming teams and introducing best-practice processes. He fosters a culture of excellence and collaboration within his teams, resulting in increased productivity and high employee satisfaction.

Bhatnagar continues to demonstrate unwavering dedication to advancing ASQ's mission, collaborating closely with its Board of Director and dedicated member leaders to not only uphold ASQ mission and vision, but also propel the Society to greater heights.

Bhatnagar holds degrees in Management Information Systems and Corporate Communications from the University of Wisconsin.